Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: The proposed amendments to claim 1 were analyzed during the interview; and it was established that the outset of the claim (e.g. its preamble) does not particularly narrow to the very end result subsequent to the steps taken or recited; that is, creation of an extended repository of application metadata as well as providing repository of source files to support the internal functionality (via use of compiled code) of the metadata repository. It was also mentioned that the elements recited as M1, M2, M3 are to be expressed in terms of specific concrete entities with functionality that interrelate (e.g. how the templates play their roles w/r to making use of those meta-languages) with one another in order to yield script constructs or source files; that is, the recited elements clearly establish cause or effect relationship needed to put forth the purpose of the claimed framework, while obviating the use of broad terminology or piecemeal step action that would otherwise lead to no clear statutory application usefulness. .
